THEME

"All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players."

In our small world, RFA is our stage on which we, the students, play our parts under the able direction of our teachers and administrative staff. The classrooms, the halls, the stadium, the gym, have been our sets where the spotlight has illuminated our separate joys and sadnesses, our hopes and despairs.

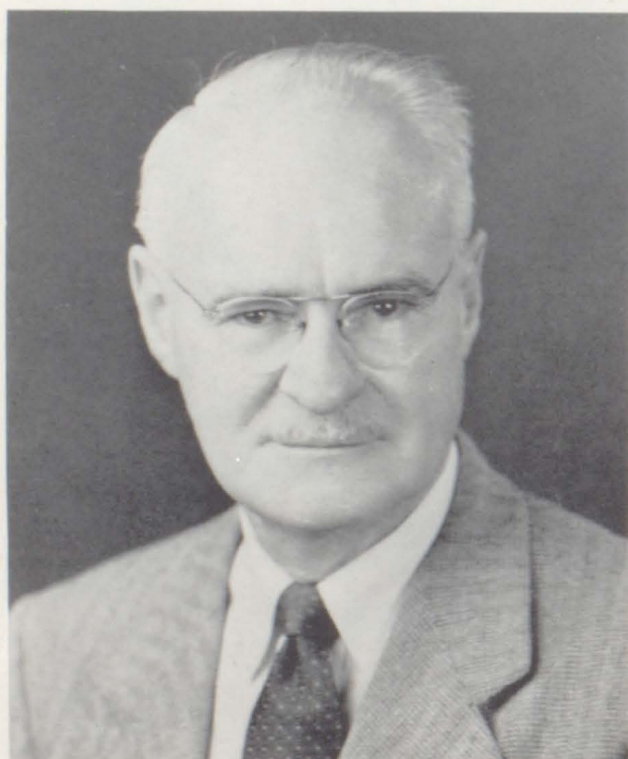

This past year we became the proud possessors of new sets which emerged from years of confusion and construction, among them a spacious auditorium and stage.

As we leave RFA for the larger stage of which Shakespeare spoke, we hope that each succeeding cast will inherit as fine a theater in which to play their varied roles as we have.

"They have their exits and their entrances; and one man in his time plays many parts."

Carl S. Paige

With sincere gratitude we, the Senior Class of Rome Free Academy, wish to express our appreciation to our capable producer Mr. Carl S. Paige. During the past three years he has given us untiring co-operation and valuable advice. We are sure of his dependability though he remains quietly in the background.

Myron Whittemore

With the deepest sense of appreciation, we the Senior Class of Rome Free Academy, wish to pay tribute to our deserving Vice-principal and co-producer Mr. Whittemore. We shall always remember him for his unselfish consideration for others and his firm belief in choosing what is right. He is never too busy to offer a practical solution to our problems.

Lyndon H. Strough

*"Full of wise saws and modern instances;
And so he plays his part."*

Early this year Mr. Lyndon Strough, Superintendent of the Rome Public Schools, opened our new theater for further performances when he spoke at the first assembly in our new auditorium. Mr. Strough inspired the students to work toward higher goals and complimented them on the goals they had already achieved. This was not the first, nor will it, we hope, be the last time that he has given the students a portion of his wisdom gained through his many years of working with them.

Attacking the job of improving our schools and facilities the Board of Education of Rome has seen the task completed that has taken many years of planning and hard work. Their dedicated effort to equip us with these fine facilities has been appreciated by these who have already used them and will be appreciated for years to come by many others.

The Board of Education

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1959, are proud to dedicate our year-book to MRS. ROBERT HUBBELL. This we do in appreciation for her interest in the pupils of RFA and in the school itself. She is always available to the students for advice on prom decorations, posters, and any others matters which might need the attention of a member of the faculty. She greets everyone with a ready smile and a sincere wish to help. Her many hours of patient assistance to the De-O-Wain-Sta Art staff have been a big help and sincerely appreciated. She is more than just an instructor; she is a friend.

Premiere

The following pages are representation of the play itself; they cover the different classes, which are the various scenes in the drama of a high schooler's day. Each double page layout represents an act of the play; each picture is a scene in that act.

First we present Act One, outlining the basic developments of the play with the basic courses; English, history, languages, sciences, and mathematics.

The second Act carries on the action of the play through the vocational courses: homemaking, shops, business, and driver education.

The final act climaxes the play with art and gym and ends it pleasantly with music.

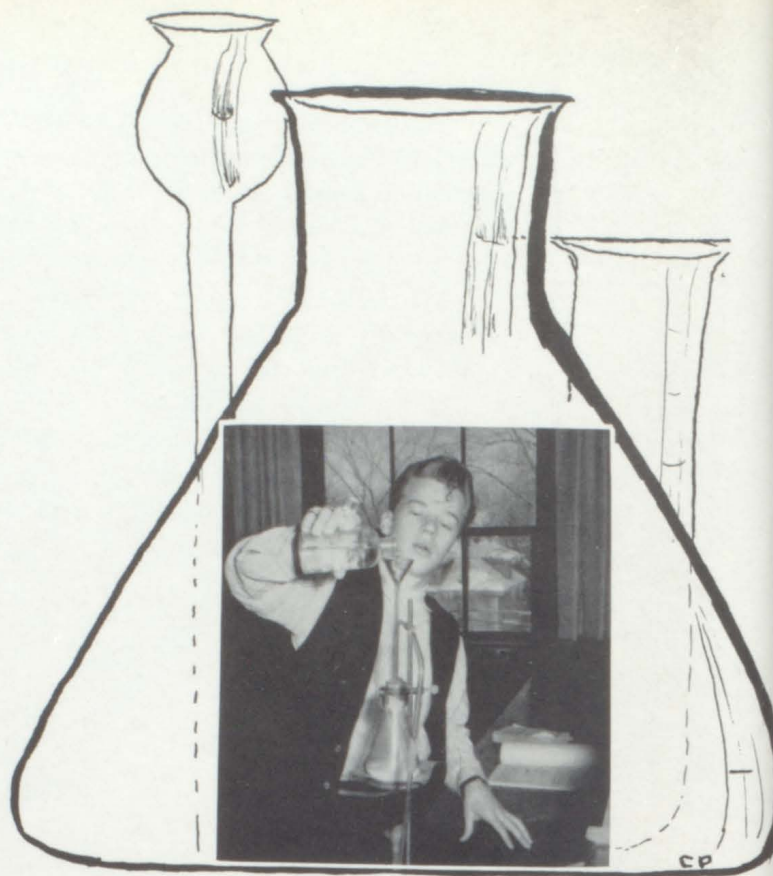

As a play is thus composed of many acts and scenes put together to make one interesting whole, so RFA, with its varied courses and its classes suited to the many interests and ambitions of its students is a happy whole with many parts, to which its students gladly give their loyalty. From star to stage hand, all work for a successful production.

Rome Free Academy is very proud of its students who have won honors this year. Those pictured on this page are representative of the students who have won scholarships and honors. Real scholars add luster to a school because of their superior fulfillment of the purpose of education.

JOHN WEISS, who won the local French National Contest, is also one of three who placed in the merit scholarship competition. In addition he received a scholarship to Syracuse University.

JUDITH EAKINS, this year's D. A. R. winner, also placed first in the Slingerland Speech Contest. In her junior year she won the Student Assn. Service Award.

The Betty Crocker Award was given to PATRICIA BROMBACK. In addition, she has won a New York State Scholarship and she is also a member of the National Senior Honor Society.

For showing superior ability in the field of science and math, PAT STELLATO and PAT CHARNEY won the I. R. E. Award of $300 and $150 respectively. A scholarship to Hamilton was also won by Pat Stellato.

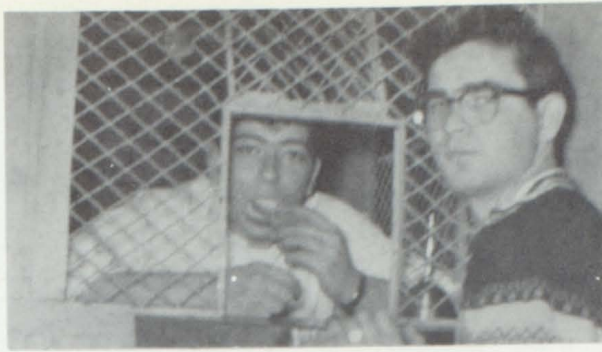

Junior Achievement

"Wanna buy some stock?" This question is a sure sign that the teen-ager who asks you is a member of a Junior Achievement Company. Since Junior Achievement companies are like any other small enterprises, their members must sell stock, besides making, packaging and selling their products. In fact, the only difference between J. A. and other small businesses is that the Junior Achievement companies are entirely run by teen-agers.

Naturally, some adult direction is needed; this is provided by businessmen from the local larger enterprises who sponsor our city's Junior Achievement companies. The way these businessmen willingly give their time to help their town's teen-agers by acquainting them with the fundamentals of business is greatly appreciated by all Junior Achievers.

R E M E M B R A N C E

This is the stage where we Seniors have played our parts. It will be remembered in our happy thoughts; the lunches in the cafeteria, the traffic jams in the hallways, the exchange of bathing caps and the straight hair after swimming classes, the football games, the UFA dummy, the Senior Play, the assemblies and, of course, the Senior Ball.

It will be remembered in our sad thoughts; the tardy slips and detention, the bonfire that couldn't be lighted, the basketball games we almost won, the day lollipops were forbidden, and the day we came back from Christmas vacation. Even though the members of the Class of '59 will be acting in different roles in colleges, in businesses or in the branches of the armed forces, each will recall his unforgettable part in the play presented at RFA during the three years of his high school life.

SENIORS

THE TEMPEST

Be cheerful sir:

*Our revels now are ended. These our actors,
As I foretold you, were all spirits and
Are melted into air, into thin air:
And, like the baseless fabric of this vision,
The cloud-capp'd towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherit, shall dissolve
And, like this insubstantial pageant faded,
Leave not a rack behind. We are such stuff
As dreams are made on, and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep.*

—Act IV, Scene I

Class Officers

Left to Right: S. Linowitch, President; P. Lauri, Secretary; M. Ross, Treasurer; T. Swiecki, Vice-President.

Class History

As the curtain goes down on the Class of '59, nothing could better express our sentiments than these Shakespearean selections. While maturing from stage struck sophomores to veteran seniors we accomplished many things.

Our sophomore season opened with the election of the following class officers: Sam Linowitch, President; Barbara Klara, Vice-President; Pat Lauri, Secretary; and Mary Ann Izzo, Treasurer. Working hard behind the scenes as stagehands, we decorated the halls for Christmas using the theme " 'Twas the Night Before Christmas". In addition to helping the upperclassmen with their projects, we blossomed forth with a sophomore magazine, "The Fountain," and sponsored two dances.

Going back on full day sessions our junior year gave us more time to practice our new roles as understudies. Under the able direction of our officers; (Sam Linowitch, President; John Semo, Vice-President; Phyllis Colangelo, Secretary; and Mary Ann Izzo, Treasurer), we proudly presented our Junior Prom, "Jungle Magic," selected our class rings, and acted as ushers for Commencement and Baccalaureate exercises.

Our names in lights for the first time, we captured starring roles as seniors. Heading our cast were Sam Linowitch, President; Tim Swiecki, Vice-President; Pat Lauri, Secretary; and Mary Ross, Treasurer. With full use of completed building facilities, we renewed activities which had been curtailed for the past few years and joined in the many new activities now available to us. The annual Senior Play was resumed in March with the presentation of "Sky High", a three-act comedy. As well as enjoying our classes and activities, we seniors were busy planning our futures with college and job interviews. We also looked forward to the coming events of Senior Ball, Moving Up Day, Baccalaureate, Senior Banquet, Alumni Night, and, of course, Commencement.

Leaving the stage where so much has been learned and done, we wish to express our appreciation to Mr. James Hayes and Miss Louise Kingsley who have so aptly guided our projects. We Seniors now say farewell to RFA as we enter the next and greater stage of our lives.

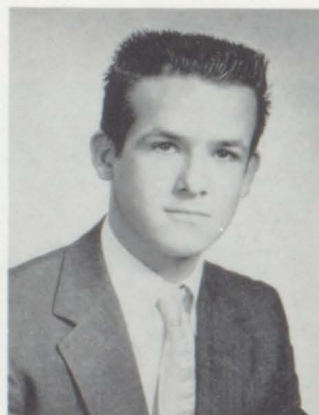

AS YOU LIKE IT

*All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players;
They have their exits and their entrances;
And one man in his time plays many parts,
His acts being seven ages. At first the infant,
Mewling and puking in the nurse's arms.
And then the whining school-boy, with his satchel,
And shining morning face, creeping like a snail
Unwillingly to school. And then the lover,
Sighing like furnace; with a woeful ballad
Made to his mistress' eyebrow. Then a soldier
Full of strange oaths, and bearded like the pard,
Jealous in honour, sudden and quick in quarrel,
Seeking the bubble reputation
Even in the cannon's mouth. And then the justice,
In fair round belly with good capon lined,
With eyes severe and beard of formal cut,
Full of wise saws and modern instances;
And so he plays his part. The sixth age shifts
Into the lean and slippered pantaloon,
With spectacles on nose and pouch on side,
His youthful hose well sav'd, a world too wide
For his shrunk shank; and his big manly voice,
Turning again toward childish treble, pipes
And whistles in his sound. Last scene of all,
That ends this strange eventful history.
Is second childishness and mere oblivion,
Sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste, sans everything.*

Class History

The Juniors, now in their second year on the stage, have settled down as seasoned actors, proud of the parts they have played. When they were still in the walk-on stage, they elected Stan Kenjarski, Rocco Versace, Ann Thompson, and Rocco Valentine to direct them and proceeded to do their best to execute their roles successfully. This they did as sponsors of numerous record hops, which they considered most outstanding, and as sponsors of the Christmas Decorations that were actually admired by the upperclassmen. The culmination of the year was the dance they considered the best ever held at R.F.A., the Sophomore Hop.

With the sound of applause at these performances still ringing in their ears, they prepared for their encore and returned to begin their junior year in the true theatrical spirit. After an election that established Stan Kenjarski, Rocco Versace, Esther Burgdorf, and Gail Bielby as leaders, they continued their activities doing well in sports and clubs, planning more record hops, and giving their all to the Junior Prom, a sparkling success called "Winter Coronation". They also prepared to choose their class rings.

Now, as they watch the seniors bowing out, they, as understudies, are stepping into the starring roles for which they have so diligently prepared. Their stage is set, the lights go down, and they see the curtains opening on what they are sure will be a successful performance.

SOPHOMORES

Class History

The Sophomores made their debut in September, 1958, and were indeed awed by the setting that surrounded them. Their stage fright was great, but it did not prevent them from taking part in the activities offered. They elected William Berkman, Palma Giardino, Maureen Wayman, and Patricia Mandronico as their leaders and Miss Clarke as their advisor. They took complete charge of stage decorations, embellishing R.F.A.'s halls with Christmas spirit, proud of the realistic reindeer that pranced for their big fling of the year, their own sophomore-sponsored dance.

Along with attending football and basketball games, studying for the mysterious Regents, and getting used to the confident upperclassmen, the Sophomores managed to conduct themselves properly and consider their first attempts most successful. Gaining experience from their bit parts, they look to the future to see greater performances, and are indeed prepared to go on with the show.

The De-O-Wain-Sta of 1959 was produced by a group of enterprising seniors who found themselves involved in a different and difficult task for the school year. After numerous meetings as a group to decide the theme and scope of the '59 book, each section then proceeded to carry on its separate functions. The Senior Section, burdened down with the job of gathering quotations, making a directory and identifying all the seniors, came through with flying colors. The Activity Section found themselves busy with the task of arranging all the clubs in the space allotted to them. The Photography Staff was equally busy snapping pictures here and there. The Humor, Editorial, and Sport Sections also did a wonderful job after many hours of hard work. With the help of Mrs. Dorcas Watters, staff advisor, we present proudly what we believe to be the best yearbook ever.

Much credit is given to the De-O-Wain-Sta Business Staff and Mr. Elton W. Auchmoody, the staff advisor, for the tremendous job it does in financing our yearbook. By selling advertising to business firms in Rome and by selling yearbooks to students at R.F.A., the money to publish our yearbook is raised by the staff. Staff members promote sales of the yearbook by advertising posters and P.A. announcements the day before a collection. Distributing the yearbook and making up the layouts for the advertising section are also taken on by this staff.

In the Spring of 1958, these students were elected to the National Honor Society. Their election was based on the following qualities — scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

The members elected Nancy Goldstone, President; John Weiss, Vice-President; Claudette McGraw, Secretary; and Rebecca Wentworth, Treasurer. The new members then received their pins showing their membership in the Society.

MISS BARNARD AND MISS CLARKE

"La seance est ouverte." These are the words which open each meeting of the French Club which is conducted entirely in French. The club, under the direction of Miss Katherine Clarke and Miss Ruth Barnard, enables members to speak the language informally. The club's program each month varies from having French skits and lectures to a merry Christmas program with the annual visit of "Pere Noel." The social activities of the club this year have included two dances for the school, and the annual French banquet with an entirely French menu.

The Latin Club was formed in November because of the interest expressed by the students in the advanced Latin classes.

Meetings held once each month, featured programs presented by the members on many topics concerning Latin and the history of the Roman Empire, particularly in the lifetime of Marcus Cicero. mending books, shelving them in their proper order and doing other library duties. They make bulletin board displays and do other projects to arouse interest in reading. Because of the conscientious effort of the Library Council members, Rome Free Academy's library is one of which all its students may be proud.

Hey girls, put that boy down!

This spring, the class of 1959 presented a fast moving three act comedy, "Sky High". Diligent rehearsing on the part of the cast and careful planning by the crew paid off in a smooth performance.

Thanks are due to Mrs. Phila Bates who devoted many hours directing the play. Mr. Gaetano Nasci also did a fine job behind the scenes.

The Senior Class is proud to have returned the Senior Play to the extracurricular program after two years' absence.

Two outstanding swimmers were Tom Bielicki and Francis Petronella, who established new school records. Bielicki set new standards in the 50 and 100 yard free style, while Petronella broke the 100 yard breast stroke record.

Swimming

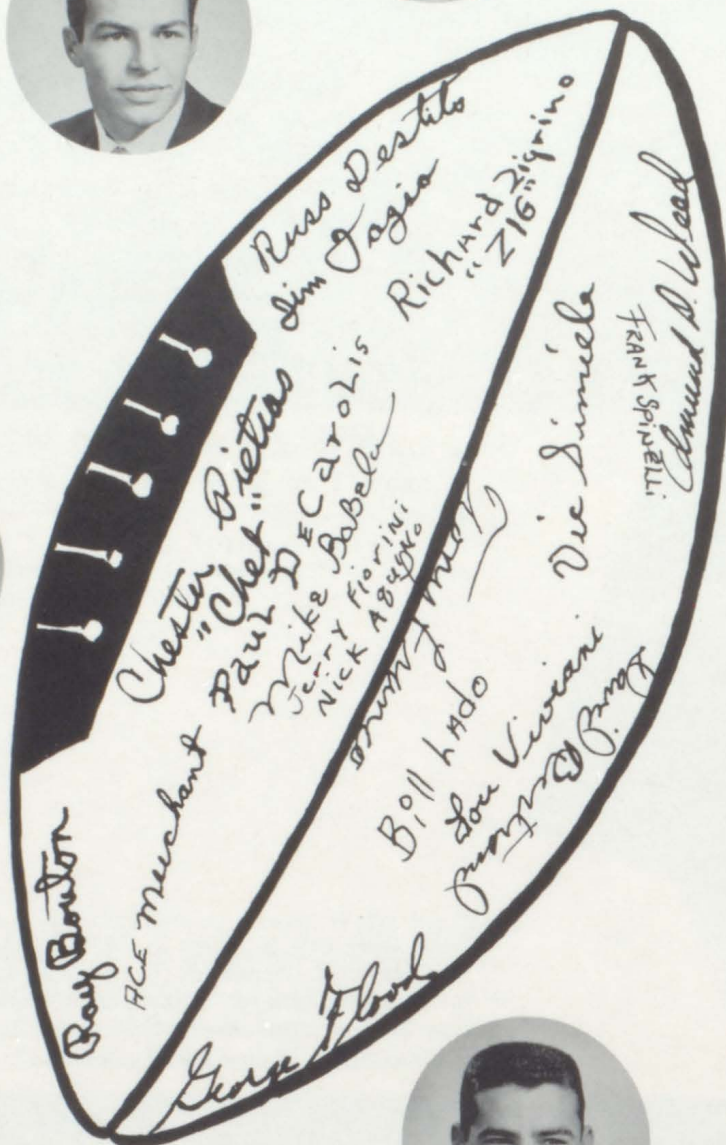

Each Monday and Wednesday nights after school, the girl' swim team of Rome, coached by Miss Marilyn Thomas, practiced individual skills of such strokes as the elementary backstroke, crawl, sidestroke and breast stroke.

Intramurals were organized on a class basis for all skill levels, advanced, intermediate and beginner. The girls with the best times made up the racing team. Outstanding times are held by Kristie Trabant in the 50 yard free style and Barbara Adolphi in the elementary backstroke.

The Black Knights, under the direction of Coach George Flood and his assistant, Coach Edmund Weed, completed a difficult schedule with a commendable record of 4 wins - 3 losses - 1 tie. In the first game favored RFA was overconfident, and only good defensive play prevented Watertown from routing Rome by more than a 13-0 score. The following week New Hartford, undefeated in its last twelve games, was trounced, 19-6, by an inspired RFA team, which featured a powerful running attack. On Saturday October 3, RFA journeyed to Mount Pleasant of Schenectady for its only out of town game during the season. In a hard fought game, Mount Pleasant was a 6-0 victor, scoring the winning touchdown in the last two minutes. The following week, Rome outplayed Auburn and won the game, 12-6, after holding Auburn on the two-yard line. Rome won by an identical 12-6 score on October 16, beating Proctor with a pair of second half touchdowns. In the sixth game of the season, RAF trailed Whitesboro by six points throughout the first period and then scored second and fourth quarter touchdowns to win their third straight game by a 12-6 score. October 30, 1958 will go down as a dark day in an otherwise bright season. The traditional rival, UFA, overpowered RFA by a 27-13 score. Rome's only good moments were in the fourth quarter, when an aerial attack clicked and RFA scored two quick touchdowns. In the finale RFA's loyal fans saw an exciting football game. With only a minute and half remaining, RFA crossed the Christian Brothers Academy's goal line for a touchdown and a 19-19 tie.

Looking back on RFA's 68th season we remember good, hard fought games played by our fine team, the Black Knights.

The 1958-59 basketball team gave Coach Fred Dair the best season since he came to Rome three years ago. The team broke even, with a nine and nine record. This record is commendable not only from the win and loss point of view but also because the majority of the squad was comprised of juniors playing their first varsity competition. Among the seniors graduating from the squad is Capt. Jim Fazio, Richard Zigrino, Dan Donahue, Mike Bobela and "Doc" Ferguson.

TALLY GADGET ROCKS THE WORLD

Emmett M. Tally, III, blew up the planet Mars today when an atomic robot he had invented accidentally exploded. Tally had placed the robot on Mars and was operating it by remote control from Earth. When questioned on this strange occurrence, Mr. Tally replied, "I didn't know it was loaded!"

OFFICERS READY FOR THIS YEAR'S BATTLE

Several members of the World Champion Rome Colonels have been picked to play on the Conference League team in this year's All-Star Baseball Game. Manager for the team will be Rome's own triple-threat athlete, Lou Viviani. Aside from leading the Colonels to victory in last year's World Series, Viviani is remembered in football as the only quarterback to throw a pass and catch it in his own team's end zone for a touchdown for the other team, in last year's All-Star Football Game.

Chosen from the Colonels for this year's contest were: Dick "Yogi" Zigrino, team catcher, who set a new record only last week by sliding on his stomach around the bases from third to home (It is hoped that he will be out of the hospital in time for the next game); southpaw-northpaw Jim Fazio, baseball's only ambidextrous pitcher, who is known for being able simultaneously to strike out the batter and throw out the runner trying to steal second base.

SAXOPHONE REAL GONE IN CONCERT HERE

Last night Rome was host to a retrogressive jazz concert sponsored by Mr. John Semo, multi-billionaire head of Semo Chemicals, Inc. The feature act was Jack Ritchie and his Rootin' Tootin' Revelers. The performance was marred only slightly when Frank L. Trombley, owner of Trombley's Market, walked onto the stage to repossess the saxophone of soloist Joe Procopio, for failing to pay for pizza pies bought in 1964 for the citizens of Greenwich Village.

The show's finale contained a medley of songs written by Mr. Ritchie, among them the ever popular "You Stabbed Her From Behind the Drapes, but It's Curtains For You Now Cha Cha."

HOLMES OUT OF HOCK MONTE LOSES CARLOAD

Last night, after years of futile attempts, Ronald (Diamond Ron) Holmes broke the bank at Monte Carlo. His earnings topped even those gained in a similar feat in Las Vegas five years ago. When pressed for the secret of his success, Mr. Holmes said, "I refuse to answer on the grounds that such answer might tend to incriminate me."

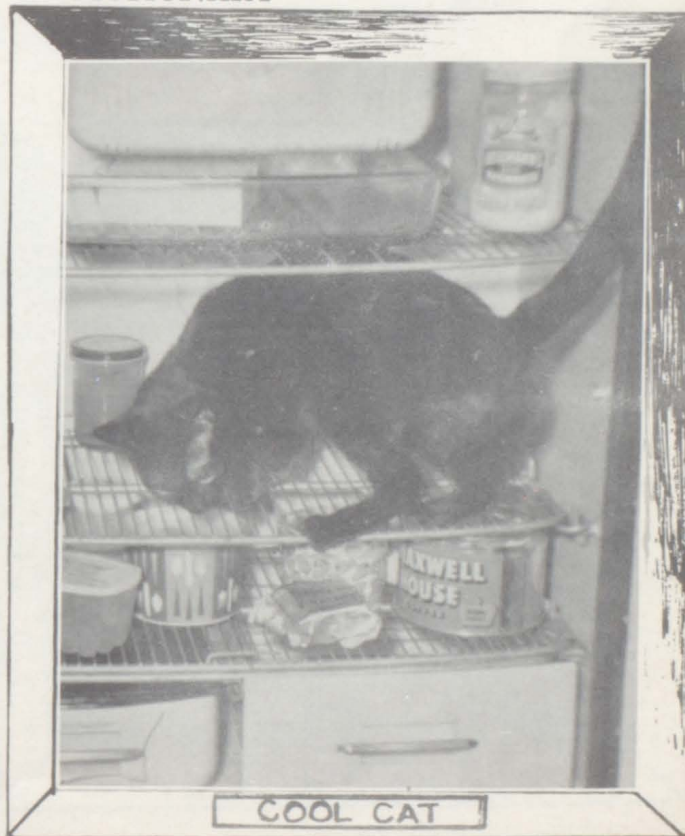

ART SHOW HELD. ONE CRITIC STRUCK SPEECHLESS

Miss Angela DiCastro and Miss Pamela Smith put on a joint show of modern art this afternoon, drawing comments from several distinguished visitors. As she left with a painting she had purchased for two million dollars, Miss Janice Herthum was heard to exclaim, "Bargain!"

Miss Lucille Gratch, examining a picture named "Persons at Work", wondered aloud, "Why can't I understand people."

Finally, when asked for a comment on the array of modern art, the eminent Doctor Nina Greenberg merely shrugged, since she had been struck on the head by a falling picture and rendered speechless.

Marlana Stabler: "Dawn, what are you doing in geometry?"

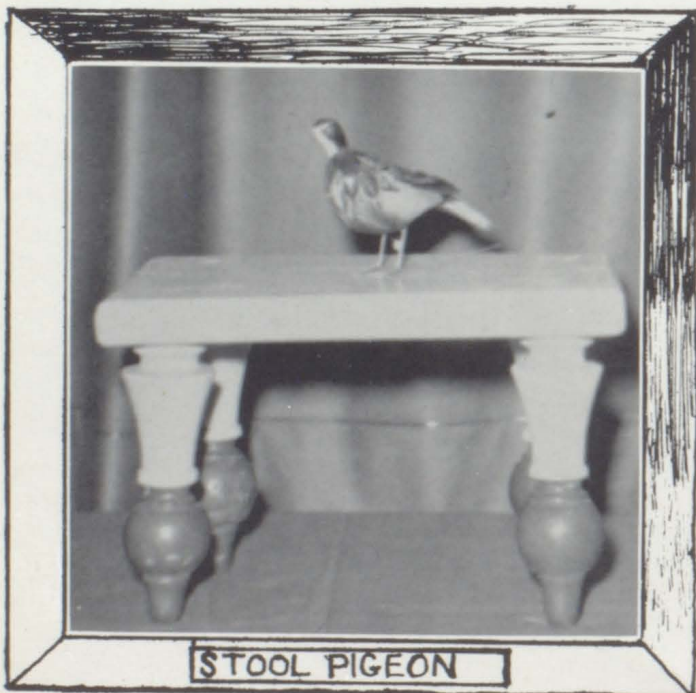

Dawn Filippini: "Chemistry."

Bill Lado: "I've got a photographic mind. The only trouble is, I forgot to put the film in."

Miss Kingsley: "Who can use the word 'elixir' in a sentence?"

John Weiss: "She wants to sue her husband because elixir every night."

PICTIONARY

Mr. Uvanni: "You people run around like chickens with your heads cut off. The only trouble is, you don't die."

Joe Mastraccio and a friend were returning to classes from the Christmas assembly.

Friend: "The audience's part of the program fell a little flat didn't it?"

Joe: "You bet. I sang solo, though."

Friend: "Oh?"

Joe: "Yeah, solo you couldn't hear me. I heard you singing tenor."

Friend: "Really?"

Joe: "Yeah, tenor twelve miles away."

Mr. Richardson: "Did you hear about the man who swallowed a bottle of shellac?"

Bruce Boyer: "No, what about him?"

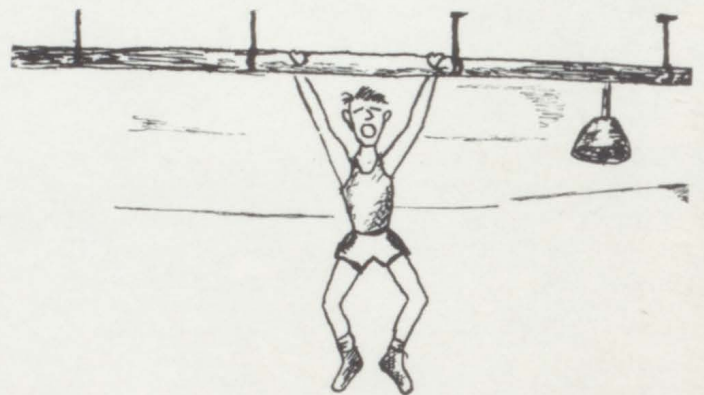

Mr. Richardson: "Well, at least he had a nice finish."

Mr. Uvanni: "How could you tell the difference between dilute sulfuric acid and concentrated sulfuric acid?"

Dave Tripp: "Pour it on your hand."

Mr. Uvanni: "That would be dangerous. Isn't there an easier way?"

John Semo: "Pour it on someone else's hand."

"COOOAAACH!!!"
